Hudgins Says County Needs More Stock

Points To Stock Figures In Statement

According to preliminary figures farms in Appomattox county show an increase in cattle, hay, corn and oats; and a considerable decrease in tobacco acreage.

The number of cattle increased 1441 head in the last year or two. Mules show an increase of 124 head and horses declined 324 head. Considering the increase in the number of mules, we have 200 head of work team less than we had two years ago. Hogs show an increase of 14 per cent.

Hay acreage increased 38 per cent, due largely to pushing clover and lespedeza.

The county produced over 17000 bushels of Irish potatoes and over 15000 bushels of sweet patatoes.

For a more balanced program our farmers should further reduce their acreage of tobacco and expand a great deal more in grains and all kinds of live stock, especially horses and mules and hogs. At present we are raising less than 2 1/2 hogs per farm.

The above information was given out today by the county agent, R. B. Hudgins.

C. H. COLEMAN TO BE 92 DEC. 12th

We Claim A Record For C. H. Coleman, Local Veteran

C. H. Coleman, shown above with Mrs. Coleman, will be 92 years of age on December 12.

Mr. Coleman is one of six surviving veterans of the War Between the States in this county.

Calling by the Times Virginian office this week, he pointed to what we believe is a record for him. He remembers selling tobacco as a young man, in Farmville in the year 1858, 77 years ago. We are of the belief that that makes him the states oldest tobacco now on the job. Does anyone know of a farmer who has been selling the famous leaf for more than 77 years?

Of course, he took "time out" during the War to fight the Yankees.

To show hom Mr. Coleman still is, he took part at killing hogs Tuesday. He about without a cane and claims he has never had a dentist or a lawyer.

Greetings, on his 92nd birthday, to one of the South "First Citizens."

IN MEMORIAM:
She is not dead, she's only sleeping.
For we know that her soul is at rest,
Today she is a beautiful bouquet in Heaven,
Where we know she is happy and blest.
She has left this old world of sorrow
No more will she know aches and pain.
We pray that some day we will meet her,
Our loss is only her gain.
In loving memory of our mother Mrs. Elnora D. Glover, who depart ed this life Saturday night, December 2nd, 1933.
